

Dear Sir:

I am totally against easing ownership rules. Authorizing monopolization of communication companies flies in the face of what democracy stands for. The current administration of which you are a part seems to be steering this country toward a fascist dictatorship by subduing opposition and forcing a one-party system and easing the restrictions would seal this country's fate. Who will come to "liberate America"? Iraq? This move you are considering is totally un-American. How dare people in the Bush administration accuse ANYONE of being unpatriotic or unAmerican. I have not seen such a gross miscarriage of justice, fairness and freedom in my entire life as under this administration. Please reconsider.

Proud patriotic American,
Jeannie Colbert
